

Customer will use the Business Points Data solely for market research and analysis, including analysis of Customer's market for opportunities or competitive threats, assigning sales territories, or building sales and marketing strategies. Customer will not use the Business Points Data for direct marketing activities including direct mailing, telemarketing, or cold calling.