CDC Managed Services for Precisely Connect

Product overview

Your IT professionals are experts at building and supporting business applications, organizing data, and supporting your users. The essential tasks required to integrate data into new platforms call for a different skillset and keep your IT team from focusing on advancing business initiatives.

CDC Managed Services for Precisely Connect provides a cost-effective way to focus on your business's needs by outsourcing the implementation, management, and maintenance of your Precisely change data capture solution. Take advantage of decades of experience and expertise in replicating complex data types while reducing your internal costs.

Work with the industry's top integration experts

Your organization depends on your IT team's deep expertise to ensure the business runs smoothly. However, keeping change data capture processes operating without disruption requires a diverse set of skills. It demands proficiency in legacy data platforms, new cloud technology, and big data.

The members of Precisely's managed service team are the data integration experts. Our team offers decades of experience across a variety of architectures, technologies, and data types. The Precisely managed services team helps keep your solution running at peak levels, ensures your configuration is properly tuned, and maintains documentation.

Benefits

- Increased data access for business users
- Legacy platform expertise including IBM i and z/OS
- Deep understanding of big data requirements, DBMS transactions, batch changes and persistent storage
- Reduce downtime when making model updates, recovering from issues, planning, and preparing for regular system/DBMS downtime

Working with Precisely Managed Services, you have a resource who knows the technical nuances of CDC, how to navigate complex systems, and can work across teams to identify and resolve issues.

Value. Delivered.

- Fill skills gaps without adding headcount
- Deliver data reliably to the business in real-time
- Rest assured that your Precisely solution is managed on a day to day basis by data integration experts
- Prevent lapses in data sharing and data access
- Free staff to focus on business priorities
- Consistent support and costs
- Stay current with best practices

precisely.com | 877 700 0970

Deliver data reliably in real time

Delays in information delivery affect the timeliness and decision-making ability of your business. Precisely experts help you ensure that your data integration workflows never impact the speed at which a business receives information. Work with a Precisely expert who can quickly make changes, validate system readiness, and successfully deliver data in real time.

Benefits

- Quickly update solutions for existing source and target schema changes
- Easily manage and update model credentials
- Add tables to replication, or remove them, without business disruption
- Complete requests for operational or performance tuning

Establish long-lasting best practices

You have invested in Precisely Connect to get the most value out of your data as quickly as possible, and it can serve your changing needs for years to come. But to optimize the speed with which you get that value, manage day-to-day operations, and tune the system over time, you can benefit from expertise in data integration. Precisely's consulting team can help build out your solution, and then let our managed services team keep it running. Precisely Managed Services team enables you to focus on your business, not your systems.

Benefits

- Establish repeatable best practices with Precisely experts
- Avoid downtime when making changes
- Ensure the business is running on the most accurate data possible

Ready. Set. Go.

Are you ready to deploy the most experienced experts in integrating complex mainframe and IBM i data to help guarantee the best data accessibility and replication possible? Contact us today. CDC Managed Services for Precisely Connect is ready when you are.

precisely.com | 877 700 0970