Precisely + Opendatasoft by Huwise

Unlock trusted data access with an integrated data marketplace.

Overview

Organizations struggle to make data accessible across teams, systems, and applications, which slows down AI readiness, innovation, and informed decision-making.

To solve this, Precisely and Opendatasoft by Huwise have partnered to deliver trusted data through a business-friendly data marketplace. This joint solution combines the Precisely Data Integrity Suite with Opendatasoft by Huwise's e-commerce-style data marketplace, providing intuitive access to enterprise data products.
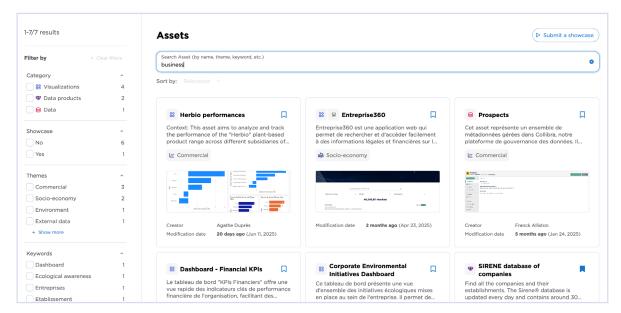

Whether delivering data to internal teams, across ecosystems, or publicly, this joint offering ensures data is trustworthy and discoverable— so your data consumers can access data in a self-service way, whenever it's needed most.

Benefits

- Democratize data access
  Give business teams self-service access to trusted data products without waiting for engineering or IT.

- Enable high-integrity AI
  Feed AI/ML pipelines with curated, traceable data to minimize bias, improve accuracy, and meet explainability standards.

- Deliver data when and where it's needed
  Distribute ready-to-use data across systems — internal, partners, customers — to support transparency, regulatory mandates, and innovation.

- Meet regulatory and compliance standards
  Automate tracking of data flows, permissions, and usage to simplify audits, enforce policies, and reduce regulatory risk.
